Graft Revealed At State Fair

Concession Kickbacks Charged By Roth

DETROIT — (AP)—The Detroit News said today that "a former member of the state fair board of managers and some former fair employees are involved in an investigation of concession kickbacks."

Attorney General Stephen J. Roth was quoted as saying that "countless thousands of dollars" are involved and that he uncovered and reported the alleged kickbacks to federal authorities.

(The Associated Press was unable to locate Roth immediately. He was reported campaigning in the vicinity of Ironwood, in the Upper Peninsula.)

The News said that not only the state fair but at least 15 county fairs were included in the investigation.

Roth was further quoted as saying: "They (kickbacks) are matters we thought the internal revenue bureau would be interested in, for prosecution or collection."

"We think it may open a lot more doors."

The investigation covers the last 10 years, the News said.

The newspaper said the alleged kickbacks involved sale of space at fairs.

It reported that concession operators had complained that when they sought to rent space they were informed it all had been sold, and unable to deal with fair officials they were forced to pay premium rentals to third parties.

The newspaper said premium award kickbacks also were under investigation. Such awards at the State Fair alone total $110,000.

Amusement Building Ban Goes On Tonight

WASHINGTON — (AP)—The national production authority today banned the building of any new structures for "amusement, recreational or entertainment purposes."

The order, effective at midnight tonight, was issued to conserve materials for armaments.

Covered by the ban are theaters of all kinds, amusement parks, race tracks, golf courses, night clubs, skating rinks and summer camps.

Persons who start other buildings which do not further the defense drive—even though not on the prohibited list—run the risk of being barred from completion of the building, Harrison said.

The order applies to federal, state and city recreational projects as well as private buildings.

The NPA simultaneously issued two more orders settling the defense yoke more firmly on the economy.

Truman May Call Congress Nov. 15

WASHINGTON — (AP)—President Truman said today he is considering calling Congress into special session in advance of Nov. 27.

Mr. Truman told a news conference that if he decides on a special call to Congress he will issue it when his decision is reached, regardless of whether it is before the election or after it.

When Congress quit last September, it took a recess until Nov. 27.

Word that Mr. Truman might call it back sooner had circulated in Washington even before the president's news conference. Some Republicans took the view that any call issued before the election on Nov. 7 could only be regarded as a political move.

Two different sources in a position to know about White House moves told a reporter last night that Mr. Truman was considering issuance of the call before the Nov. 7 election.

These sources, who stipulated that they not be named, said a tightening and extension of federal rent controls was the main item on an emergency program of legislation the president is working on.

The president was understood to be planning talks with Democratic congressional leaders before making such a move in the middle of a political campaign in which most Congress members are hoping for reelection.

In addition to rent control, the president was reportedly considering asking Congress for new taxes—it has pledged enactment of an excess profits tax late this year or early in 1951—and possibly for some new military manpower legislation.

Observers here recalled the dramatic surprise by Mr. Truman during the 1948 campaign. In his speech accepting the Democratic presidential election, he announced he would recall the Republican-controlled 80th Congress into special session.

Atomic Energy Key Job Filled

Industrialists Take Top Wartime Posts

WASHINGTON — (AP)—The appointment of two industrialists to key posts in the atomic energy and guided missiles programs may signal the start of anticipated step-ups in these war-vital weapons fields.

Marion W. Boyer, Esso Standard Oil company executive named yesterday as general manager of the Atomic Energy commission, is a petroleum production expert.

K. T. Keller, appointed by Secretary of Defense Marshall to be director of guided missiles, is president of Chrysler Corp., automobile manufacturers, and also has had wide production experience.

AEC Chairman Gordon Dean announced Boyer's appointment to the top operating job in the multi-billion dollar program for developing nuclear energy—and the hydrogen bomb.

Boyer succeeds Carroll Wilson, who resigned Aug. 8 in an explosive split with the AEC chairman.

Wilson in quitting had complained of a trend toward assumption by the commission itself of a more direct role in actual operations.

He said he feared the result would be a "cumbersome, slow-moving administrative machine which is incapable of giving the country the kind of direction needed to maintain and increase our leadership in the atomic field."

Dean disclosed meanwhile that the military has had "access" to atomic bombs for the use of training teams and on maneuvers.

Allied Spearhead Reaches Border Of Red Manchuria

Eisenhower May Be High Commander Of European Defenses

By MAX BOYD

WASHINGTON — (AP)—A key U. S. official predicted that North Atlantic pact military men will recommend that an American be appointed without delay as supreme commander of a combined western European defense force.

This action was forecast as the North Atlantic military committee prepared to resume the momentous implementation session begun Tuesday.

Called to Washington, there was fresh speculation in advance of the meeting that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower may become the supreme commander.

The Columbia university president, supreme Allied commander in Europe during World War II, told reporters at Indianapolis yesterday that he was coming to Washington within a few days to talk with defense department officials. He said he did not know what the department wanted, but added:

"I'm happy and pleased, of course, that the people of Europe have suggested me to head their defense army."

An American official in close touch with the military committee expressed belief that it will recommend immediate appointment of a supreme commander, instead of delaying such a step while first setting up a chief of staff to organize and train collective forces. He asked that he not be identified by name.

Immediate appointment of a full-fledged commander would achieve centralized command—one of the goals set by the North Atlantic Council of Foreign Ministers in September—without an interim period under a chief of staff with more limited powers.

Bradley Mentioned

The proposed supreme commander would have a chief of staff to assist him. His staff, designed to knit the combined force together and direct its operations in case western Europe is attacked, would include representatives of the 12 North Atlantic treaty nations.

General Eisenhower has been mentioned often as a likely choice for the North Atlantic command. So has Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the U. S. joint chiefs of staff and present chairman of the North Atlantic military committee.

President Truman has given no public indication as to whom he will select for the job if called upon to do so. Presumably, the other Atlantic pact governments will be consulted in advance as to whether the man he wants is agreeable to them. There is little doubt that either Eisenhower or Bradley would be welcomed.

Exports To Red China From U. S. A. Tripled

WASHINGTON — (AP)—American exports to Communist China, currently under investigation by a Senate commerce subcommittee, almost tripled in August.

A commerce department report yesterday showed that shipments to China during the second full month of the Korean war climbed to $8,900,000 from $3,000,000 in July. In addition, $2,700,000 in American goods went to Manchuria.

The report did not say what the goods were.

Raspberries Ripen

KALAMAZOO — (AP)—City market officials got a surprise Wednesday when five quarts of homegrown red raspberries, three months out of season, were offered for sale. They were quickly snapped up. The berries were grown on a Galesburg farm by Frank Walkanz. The mid-summer heat a week ago ripened them.

Korean Operation What-The-Hell Disgusts United States Marines

By BEN PRICE

WONSAN, Korea — (AP)—Baffled and disgusted U. S. Marines ambled ashore here today in "operation what-the-hell."

That was their private description of the maneuver which sent them ashore in dribs and drabs on an east coast beach where the situation was already well in hand.

When this operation was planned it was to have been a slam bang affair on Oct. 20 against a well fortified peninsula sticking northward across the mouth of this important port, one of the best in Korea.

By the time the Marines arrived, however, republic of Korea (ROK) troops had swept through the town and on to the north and west.

So for six extra days the large

Retail Sales Feel Jolt Of Credit Curbs

Blow At Inflation Slows Up Buying

NEW YORK — (AP)—The government's credit-tightening blow against inflation has severely jolted retail sales around the country.

A nationwide spot-check by the Associated Press disclosed today a highly variegated impact on sales resulting from stiffer installment buying terms imposed last week by the federal reserve board.

One main fact stands out—people have cut back their heavy buying because they haven't got the ready cash for higher down payments or because their incomes are too low to meet the new stepped-up monthly payment terms.

Customers Confused

That is exactly what the federal reserve aimed at with its new regulations Oct. 16, which tightened up the previous controls of Sept. 18 requiring heavier down payments and a shorter time to pay.

After less than two weeks of operating under the new controls, however, the picture is far from uniform. Most heavily involved in sales declines are automobiles, home appliances, television sets and furniture.

And the situation is complicated by such things as war scare buying, automobile model changes, color television uncertainties, war shortages, and just plain customer confusion.

The biggest outcry has come from automobile dealers of all types. Their opposition was termed "immediate and violent" by the trade paper Automotive News. Estimates of sales losses vary in the extreme.

Fall Lull Normal

Little note has been taken of these factors: Motor vehicle sales fell four per cent in September in commerce department estimates. There usually is a normal lull during the change-over to new models, and sales had been running at record peaks for some time with a fall expected for months.

So far automobile manufacturers haven't commented on the credit terms and are producing cars as fast as they can.

The commerce department shows a similar pattern in durable goods like refrigerators and other such home appliances. There was a dip in September after the Korean war scare buying spree.

Some think that dip carried over into October, accelerated by the usual post-school-season buying lull that usually lasts until Christmas shopping gets underway with cold weather.

So far there are only scattered reports of loss of furniture sales because of curtailment of new housing starts.

Story Of Mail Holdup Is Hoax

Driver Shoots Holes In Truck Himself

DENVER — (AP)—Chief Postal Inspector R. B. Dunbar said today a reported attempt to rob a U. S. mail truck on Monarch Pass last night was a hoax.

Dunbar said the truck driver, Eugene Coatsney, 25, a veteran of the South Pacific war, admitted firing pistol shots into his truck and making up a story that gunmen in an automobile tried to him. Coatsney had told officers three men in a "big Cadillac" pulled alongside his truck, and threatened him with guns.

The driver had told officers he estimated the truck's mail contained at least $18,000 in currency, but Dunbar said this was not the case.

Sheriff Emmette Shewalter said Coatsney told him and postal inspectors he had laid his automatic on the truck seat and it was accidentally discharged, driving a bullet through the truck.

Coatsney said he feared trouble with the truck owner, C. J. Helmericks of Montrose, so he fired another shot into the truck and one through a mail bag to back up his story of robbers.

After questioning, Coatsney was released and returned to Montrose with Helmericks. The truck owner was instructed to put a new driver on the run today.

RED CONTROLLER—President Truman has named Seth W. Richardson, above, now chairman of the government's loyalty review board, as chairman of the five-man Communist Control Board. The Board, which has authority to order Communist organizations to register, was set up under the recently-enacted Anti-Subversives Bill.

Tibet Invaded By China Reds

People To Be Freed, Pravda Declares

BERLIN — (AP)—The Russians announced today that Chinese Communist forces had crossed Tibet's frontier early Tuesday.

"In the early morning hours of Tuesday, a formation of the Chinese people's army crossed the Tibetan frontier," an announcement in Taghik Rundschau, official newspaper of the Soviet control commission in Germany, said today.

It was the first word that the Red Chinese actually had entered Tibet.

MOSCOW — (AP)—Pravda said today a Communist Chinese "liberation" army ordered to march on Tibet will bring freedom, peace and democracy to the 3,000,000 inhabitants of that remote Asian country.

A special correspondent for the Communists party organ reported from Peiping, capital of Communist China, that the second field army has been directed to advance on Tibet "for the liberation of this last region of the continental part of the republic (of China) which is still under the yoke of foreign imperialism."

Some think that dip carried over into October, accelerated by the usual post-school-season buying lull that usually lasts until Christmas shopping gets underway with cold weather.

South Korean Patrols Race To Yalu River

Chinese Communists Reported Attacking

(By The Associated Press)

SEOUL — (AP)—An Allied spearhead reached Red China's Manchurian border tonight.

South Korean patrols raced unopposed to the south bank of the Yalu river, in the center of the uneasy frontier between North Korea and Manchuria. They were the first U. N. troops to complete the long thrust up the mountainous peninsula.

Other elements of the same division—the Republic of Korea (ROK) sixth—were reported under attack by Chinese Communists some 50 miles to the south. There was no high allied confirmation, however.

Landing at Wonsan

And on the east coast, the U. S. marine first division spearheaded a 50,000 man landing force at captured Wonsan port.

The Korean Military Advisory Group (KMAG) reported that the honor of being the first U. N. force to reach the Manchurian boundary fell to the Seventh regiment of the ROK Sixth division.

The division, kicking off from Kojang, 18 miles south of the border, entered Chosan at 5:50 p. m. (3:50 a. m.) and sent patrols three miles further north to the winding Yalu.

The report that Red Chinese troops had entered the fighting came from ROK army headquarters, which attributed it to a Chinese Communist prisoner.

Unit Surrounded

A South Korean spokesman reported the Chinese prisoner said three Chinese Red battalions were striking elements of the South Korean Sixth division east of Onjong, about 75 miles north of Pyongyang, the United Nations captured Red Korean capital.

The spokesman said a ROK field commander near Onjong had reported his unit was almost surrounded and called for reinforcements. The field commander did not specify the attackers were Chinese.

Onjong is 32 miles south of Kojang, captured earlier in the day by a spearhead of the South Korean sixth division. Evidently, the Red force attacking the unit near Onjong waited for the main body of South Koreans to drive north.

The ROK division's forward elements were driving unchecked on Yongsan, only eight miles from

What's New In The Press!

(This is the twenty-second in a series of articles telling you what's new in the Escanaba Daily Press).

Surely you noticed that splendid action picture taken by the Escanaba Daily Press cameraman, Bernie Schultz, at the Escanaba-Marquette football game.

Charlie Larson used it on his sports page Monday and it now is being viewed by many on our picture and news bulletin board at Sixth and Ludington streets.

Something else new has been added: The shot was taken from a vantage point in the stands. But what brought Tom Schwalbach and the others right up in your laps in this picture was the Press' new 3.6 17-inch telephoto lens.

It was used by Schultz Saturday for the first time, and the results were gratifying. "Clearer, sharper detail, much wider scope and more depth," were Bernie's comments. "I used an f 11 opening and shutter speed of 1/100th. It was cloudy, but the detail was good."

Our new telephoto lens is another example of the better Press service you're getting these days. The new telephoto lens will be used for football, hockey, yachting, ice breaking and harbor activity of any kind, nature studies and any other shots that are enhanced by a large image of a distant object in a camera of relatively short focal length.

Gas Conversion Plan Outlined

Job Would Take About Two Weeks

Converting the Escanaba gas system from water gas to propane gas would require about two weeks, experts from Mankato, Minn., today informed A. V. Aronson, city manager.

The experts, Joseph and Robert Bodoh of Universal Gas Conversions, Inc., conferred today with the city manager. They were the first representatives of gas converting companies to meet officials here.

The proposal to convert the Escanaba system to use of propane gas will be submitted in the Nov. 7 election. All personal and real property taxpayers will be eligible to vote on the issue.

Included in the proposal is an ordinance which would authorize issuance of $125,000 in bonds to finance the conversion.

No shutdown in gas service to commercial and industrial areas is necessary when making the conversion, the experts stated. They also pointed out that commercial and refrigeration changeovers are handled first.

In residential areas, those using gas cook stoves can continue to use their burners, even though the appliances have not been converted to use propane gas, simply by keeping the burner at the half-way mark.

In converting, work is divided into two zones and the first zone is completed before and any work is done in the second zone.

Prior to conversion, companies make surveys of the community to determine location of automatic equipment and plants and a physical survey of business places also is made. Those business establishments which need gas for operation of their business and refrigeration conversion are given first priority, the Bodoh brothers explained.

After conversion is completed surveys and inspections are made. Neither taxes nor gas rates will be increased to pay for the conversion in Escanaba, for the bonds can be retired on income from the gas utility. Converting appliances for use of propane gas will not cost the consumer anything.

Name Winners Tonight At Delta Potato Show

The 11th annual Delta county Potato Show today attracted the largest number of display samples in the history of the Potato Booster contest, and growers tonight at Cornell will be awarded trophies and cash prizes for winning places in the contest.

The program at Cornell town hall is scheduled to get under way at 8 o'clock tonight. A dance will follow the announcements—including the naming of the 1950 Delta Potato Show queen.

Delta potatoes, high in quality and yield, were displayed in samples today in the Brackett Chevrolet show rooms.

William Cargo, crops specialist of the Upper Peninsula for Michigan State College extension service, judged the entries in the three divisions of the contest.

A total of 73 samples of tubers were exhibited at the show, the largest number in the history of the show, according to J. L. Heirman, Delta county agricultural agent.

Twenty-seven samples were entered in the Tablestock division, and an equal number in the Tablestock open class; there were five entries in the certified seed division; and 14 in the 4-H club potato growers class.

Most of the samples were Rus-

Salvation Army Support Urged

Appeal For Funds Continues Here

Have you made a contribution to the Salvation Army?

If you have not yet responded to the appeal for funds in letters mailed earlier this week, make that response as soon as possible—and as generous as you can, urges the Salvation Army Citizens Committee.

The Salvation Army has through many years contributed greatly to the Delta county community in service to deserving people; to families of the less fortunate; and to children whose lives have been brightened by gifts of food and clothing and toys.

In appreciation of the work the Salvation Army is doing, a generous response to the appeal letters is asked. The fund goal to support the Salvation Army program in 1951 is $4,750—approximately 35 per cent of the amount raised by the Community Chest last year.

This year, in the absence of a Community Chest, the Salvation Army and other local service organizations must make separate appeals.

The Salvation Army Citizens Committee asks business houses and industries who have received lists to take care of them as early as possible. To date many firms have done an excellent job, while reports from others are pending.

George Bishop Will Attend Tourist, Travel Meetings

Authorized by his executive committee to continue his association with the Michigan Tourist council, the Northern Great Lakes Area council and the National Association of Travel Officials, George E. Bishop, the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau's secretary-manager, today planned to attend gatherings of two of those groups next month.

At a meeting of the executive committee, officers and directors authorized his continued service on the three boards "as his health permits."

Bishop will attend the fall meeting of the Michigan Tourist council in Grand Rapids, Nov. 8, leaving that day for Biloxi, Miss., to be present at the four-day gathering of the National Association of Travel Officials. He has been treasurer of the national body during the last nine years.

Bishop was the motivating factor in creation of both the Michigan Tourist council and the Northern Great Lakes Area council and served as the first chairman of each organization. The Northern Great Lakes Area council is composed of resort and travel officials from the states of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan and the Canadian province of Ontario.

Will Spread Walleye Story

Protective Group Is Planning Campaign

At a well attended meeting at the Legion Hall in Rapid River last night the Walleye Protective association decided on a campaign to spread the story of the walleye situation in the Bays de Noc. Contacts are to be made with both the large sportsman's groups in the state. Circulars will also be used.

In its effort to secure legislation to protect the walleye a committee headed by Walter O'Brien was named to prepare a bill that would embody the ideas in the program approved so far. Other members of the committee are: Harry Buchman and Emil Perow.

Atty. H. T. Velland was named to draft by-laws for the group.

To overcome what appears to be a serious obstacle to efficient law enforcement a resolution to seek law changes that would give conservation officers greater power in the inspection of commercial fishing gear and the catch made by fishermen was approved.

An attempt will also be made to secure the permanent assignment of one of the department's patrol boats to the Escanaba area.

Named on a committee to investigate the feasibility of affiliation with the Michigan United Conservation clubs was H. J. Yelland, Howard Wade, Clarence Moreau, Victor Powers and Joe Casimir. The Northern Michigan Sportsmen's organization will also be considered for affiliation.

Pleased with the success of the meeting in Rapid River, it was decided to hold the next meeting in Gladstone. James Cannon of Gladstone was named chairman of arrangements for the Gladstone meeting. Time and place of the meeting will be announced later.

Cheese now can be made bacteria-free more easily. This is done by pasteurizing the cheese with radio waves after it has aged. The present method is to pasteurize the milk from which the cheese is obtained.

Opportunity Is Not Dead Yet

There Is Room For A Hustler

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—We have a tiny sermon today in the person of a big ex-GI named Dave Mahoney, who has just passed his 27th birthday. Mahoney is a pretty striking example of the fact that opportunity is not dead in these parts, and we need not substitute, as yet, socialism for hustle.

Mahoney, one of the youngest Pacific infantry captains in the war at the age of 22, just became one of the youngest vice-presidents in the history of his racket, which is advertising. A firm called Ruthrauff and Ryan, one of the largest agencies in the business, decided that a youngster who was spending several million dollars a year for them might just as well have a title to go with his ulcers, which Dave also seems to have acquired with his sincere suits.

Here is a guy whose education was knocked in the head by the war. He was 18 when Pearl Harbor came to pass, a student at the University of Pennsylvania. He was a junior when he went into the army.

Got Advertising Job
After his discharge he wasted no time with the 53-20 club. He went back to school on his GI bill, but he needed some extra dough and took a $25 job in New York. Since he wanted to finish at Penn, he worked all day in New York, commuted to Philadelphia, and studied at night.

He got a job cold with R. & R. by kicking on the door with an idea for an advertising campaign. The idea broke down but, he landed in the mail-room. While he worked there he went to Columbia just to pick up a master's degree, which he figured might come in handy some day.

He hustled out of the mail room to work on some soap clients, and a couple of years ago was made account executive for a beverage, Virginia Dare. This meant that a 25-year-old was suddenly spending over a million a year of other folks' money, which is still considerable scratch.

He kept the beverage people happy and before long plommed on to two other large accounts—one of which, Motorola television, spends astronomical sums on a weekly TV show. This makes Mahoney the technical employer of such ancient maestros as Jimmy Durante, and between his three accounts, I imagine he will supervise the spending of three or four million a year. It's enough to buy him a title as VP, anyhow, and an approximate salary of $25,000, which is plenty potatoes for anybody, not to mention a youngster.

This Mahoney is a perfectly ordinary guy—no genius, no superman, no wild-eyed zealot, no preachful abstainer from anything. He drinks whisky in moderate amounts, goes to night clubs moderately, runs around with pretty young women, and seems to have a lot of fun. He does not steep himself in his job—just in his spare time he recently whipped up a sidebar mail-order business which seems slated for some large, keepable coin.

Still Opportunities
The fact that the youngster is a friend of mine has no bearing on this piece, anymore than my friendship with a highly successful restaurant owner, a Chinese ex-coolie named Sou Chan, had any bearing on the piece I once did on Sou. It's just that both men are similarly important in that they represent something really wonderful, which is that you can still mingle with opportunity in this fine land. It took Sou 17 years to

Military Miracle Saves 50,000 In Korea Death Trap

By STAN SWINTON
WONSAN, Korea — (AP) — A lightning ground advance by U. S. South Korean troops—faster than United Nations commanders dared expect—practically saved a 50,000-man amphibious operation from running into a death trap.

Today that 50,000-man force, spearheaded by the U. S. First Marine division, began prosaic landings at Wonsan, more than 100 miles behind those still advancing South Koreans.

It now can be revealed that only a military miracle prevented what might have been the blackest page in U. S. military history.

Mines Discovered
The Marines and 20,000 tough U. S. Seventh Infantry division doughboys were to have stormed ashore on Oct. 20. The miracle happened when South Korean Third division, in a breath-taking advance which strategists believed impossible, captured Wonsan on Oct. 9.

Those troops immediately discovered that Wonsan was a death trap set by the Reds, who had anticipated landings from the sea.

Longine Concert Will Be Given At Ishpeming Oct. 28

Mishel Piastro and the Longine Symphonette will perform in Ishpeming, Oct. 28 under sponsorship of George Quaal presentations.

Voted by newspaper critics as the foremost concert orchestra in radio, the Longine Symphonette has been broadcasting since its premier over WEAF New York in 1941.

The symphonette has been cited four times as the foremost radio concert orchestra and Piastro has received the National Federation of Music club's award for outstanding service to music.

The concert at Ishpeming begins at 8:30 p. m. Orders may be sent to Quaal presentations, box 252, Ishpeming.

go from untutored immigrant to tycoon, but both he and Dave did it on personal effort, with no pull, no strings, no subsidy.

While a great many lads were whining that the war had robbed them of youth and divested them of opportunity, Mahoney was working on the construction of that corny old American ideal, to better the mousetrap. That it paid off while he is still, from a professional standpoint, a beardless boy, is a reflection only on his ability, a mirror of directed effort.

I am a passionate addict of the Cinderella-and-Alger-hero stories myself, and I suspect most folks are, which is why I tell you about Dave. There still is gold in them thar hills if the hunter swings a lusty pick.

An estimated 3,000 floating mines guarded the sea approaches. A shifting sandbar would have stranded the assault boats offshore. On the beaches was an elaborate network of trenches. In front of these were barbed wire fields.

General MacArthur, Rear Adm. James H. Doyle, commander of the amphibious operation, and Vice A. Arthur D. Struble, U. S. Seventh fleet commander, decided on the Wonsan invasion at a Tokyo conference. They realized it was a calculated risk.

But American officers now concede the landing place was selected on the basis of inadequate and incorrect intelligence. The task force was at sea before the full threat of the death trap could be appreciated.

Food Almost Gone
And why did an estimated $6,000,000 amphibious operation proceed with Wonsan already in South Korean hands on embarkation day?

Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond, commander of the 10th Army Corps, said it was too late to choose another landing place. The U. N. needed military might in northeast Korea for strategic reasons. And mountain roads to Wonsan from the west made land movements impossible.

For six days the flotilla of the United States, British, French Canadian, New Zealand, Australian and South Korean ships waited at sea while minesweepers cut a channel through the mine field.

When Admiral Doyle gave the go ahead today, some of the troops crammed landing ships were almost out of food. There were 450 acute dysentery cases aboard the transport Marine Phoenix.

Spud Acreage Guides Fixed

84,600 Acres In Michigan Proposed

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(WNS) —Acreage guides for potatoes for 1951 have been "suggested" by the Production and Marketing Administration to provide for a crop of 335,000,000 bushels, and they give to Michigan 87 per cent of the 1950 planted acreage, according to announcement by PMA of the Department of Agriculture.

In Michigan this would be 84,600 acres for potatoes in 1951, as one of the late potato crop states, PMA said. The acreage suggested for each state represents total potato acreage as distinguished from commercial acreage under the 1950 price support program, PMA stated.

Illinois is given an acreage of 8,700, or 97 per cent of the 1950 crop; Iowa, 8,900 acres or 99 per cent of the 1950 crop and Ohio is given 35,700 acres or 92 per cent. Indiana will have a suggested acreage of 19,000 or 100 per cent of the 1950 crop. Idaho is down for 126,700 acres, 86 per cent of the 1950 crop.

Production and Marketing Administration said the proposals are made to enable farmers to make their potato production plans on a "realistic" basis in 1951, when no price support program is available under the law, for the first time since 1943. PMA said that 335,000,000 bushels is regarded as adequate to meet domestic requirements and provide a reasonable reserve for contingencies.

In recent years, PMA said, when the low required price support operations for potatoes, the Department of Agriculture announced acreage allotments as part of the support program, but recent changes in the law put an end to price support on potatoes with this year's production. The acreage "suggestions" are based on the volume of commercial marketings plus farm use in each state in the recent postwar years, PMA said, and "exclude that part of each state's production which it has been necessary for the Department of Agriculture to buy during these years under price-support provisions of the law."

Marshall Orders New Policy On Calling Reservists To Service

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE Marshall has come forth with a sensible solution to the unreasonable situation that now exists regarding the calling of reservists to active duty. Secretary Marshall has ordered all branches of the armed forces to establish a uniform system for calling reservists and to do the job in a manner that will give the reservists and their employers reasonable notice.

Stimson Made Record As Public Official

HENRY L. STIMSON, who served under four presidents, will stand on the highest plane of America's public servants.

The 83-year-old Republican, who died the other day at his Long Island home, was the very symbol of integrity and principle as exercised in public office. His practical attainments were sufficiently great as to insure that he would be given the opportunity to make his deep sense of responsibility felt in his country's behalf.

He acted first as President William Howard Taft's secretary of war. Many years later President Hoover named him secretary of state. In this post he exhibited a brilliant insight into world political realities that unfortunately was not appreciated at the time.

When Japan invaded Manchuria in 1931, breaking the peace of Asia for the first time since World War I, Stimson called upon the world to take immediate firm steps to repel the aggression. He spoke out vigorously against the immorality of Japan's action.

But Britain, whose help was vital in any counter-move, refused to follow Stimson's lead. Historians today are agreed that this supine acceptance of aggression in 1931 was the link in the dike that prepared the way for the great flood of Nazi-Fascist aggression in World War II.

When the second great war arrived, Stimson once more showed the courage and character that marked his public duty at every stage. At the age of 73, he accepted the invitation of a Democratic president, Franklin D. Roosevelt, to become secretary of war. He did this in the face of possible anger among many of his political friends, because he thought the times called for united action and he could lend strength and harmony to this country's defense effort.

General Marshall's tribute to Stimson is ample proof how well he performed his arduous tasks despite his advanced age. Had he done nothing else in public life, he would have earned the nation's gratitude for his self-effacing service in World War II.

If President Theodore Roosevelt be ruled out, nowhere in its 20th century history can the Republican party find a man of taller stature. In Stimson, as much as any man, lay the proof that integrity, ability and devotion to the nation's highest ideals are not the monopoly of one political party—as some would have us believe.

In each generation or two, only a few Stimsons appear on the national horizon. It is men like he who keep a democratic nation on the straight path to its destiny, despite all the muddling mediocrity involved in democracy's workings. It is men like Stimson who make a free nation a great nation.

There Aren't Enough 'Rich' Persons

THOSE who believe that practically any amount of government spending can be covered by "soaking the rich" are due for a sad awakening.

Here is what M. S. Szymczak, a governor of the Federal Reserve System, recently said about that: "Financing the expanded military budget cannot be limited to the taxation of wealthy individuals and business enterprises if it is to be useful as an effective anti-inflationary measure. It must restrict spending, and most spending is done by the vast number of individuals and families with low- and middle-bracket incomes. In an emergency situation like the present, our tax changes must be designed primarily to meet the danger of inflation."

That means that all of us, no matter how modest our means, will have to help pay the bills the government is running up. If the tax rate on the "rich" was a flat 100 per cent, it wouldn't even make a dent in our prospective federal budgets. It would be worthless as a deterrent to inflation.

As taxes bite deeper, maybe one good thing will follow—an irresistible demand that government cut all non-defense spending to the absolute limit.

Puttin' Off

It's a fact we human beings have a lot of chores we hate, and in doing them it often is the case that we are late. We prefer to put off dreaded tasks until another day, though we know the time will come when we no longer can delay. Then there's fumin' and a-fussin' as we rush to get them done, but we find them not so awful, once our labor is begun.

If, for instance, there's a letter that you know you've got to write you may have the best intentions but the job you don't invite. Or, perhaps a driver's license is a thing you have to buy, and you know that if you wait too long, you'll stand in line and sigh. Or suppose you've got some garden work to do before it rains—well, you put it off and soon a storm is beating 'gainst the panes.

You may also stall around when there's a dentist you should see, and from lots of other duties, you're a tardy refugee. But at last you have to do 'em, and you're quite surprised to find, that they really weren't difficult but just disturbed your mind. So you wonder why we humans must procrastinate each day, when with just a little effort we could go our carefree way.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

LOS ANGELES—These are days so many claims are made by candidates that it's hard for the average voter to sift the true facts before election time.

As a result, voting in a hurry and repenting at leisure sometimes saddles unfortunate congressmen on the nation.

As a guide to voters, therefore, this column will attempt to point out some of the phony statements issued by candidates.

Take for instance, Jack Hardy, GOP candidate for Congress in Helen Gahagen Douglas's old district in Los Angeles. His campaign literature features pictures of himself and wife with his three children. The picture even names the children "Tertie, Margaret and Charlie" and quotes them as saying: "We live with Jack (Hardy) and know what kind of a person he is at home. We know he is a professional man, not a professional politician."

The three Hardy children, whom the GOP candidate thus features in his literature look to be around the ages of 12 to 14. However, the interesting thing is that candidate Hardy married his wife only last May and Tertie, Margaret and Charlie are not his children. They are the children of his present wife, Georgia Sibley, by a former marriage.

Furthermore, the only child of his own which candidate Hardy ever had was the daughter of actress Fay Helm, who divorced him five years ago. At that time, Hardy relinquished all rights to custody of his baby, including even the right of visitation. It was agreed however, that he would contribute $35 a month to the baby's support.

However, even this mere pittance was too much. He defaulted on payments to the tune of $800 and, under a new court decree, now pays nothing.

Yet the man who now aspires to sit in the halls of Congress plays himself up in his campaign literature as a great family man, and quotes his stepchildren who have been with him only since May as saying: "We live with Jack and know what kind of a person he is at home. We know he is a professional man, not a professional politician."

Query—When you bring another man's children into politics, just how political can you get?

NO WARTIME PRODUCTION PLAN

The inside story has never been told of the shocking inefficiency and neglect that forced Hubert Howard out as chairman of the munitions board. Meanwhile, President Truman has let six weeks go by without appointing a new chairman to clean up the mess.

The public doesn't realize it, but the munitions board is just as vital to production planning as the joint chiefs of staff are to military planning. The board is responsible for charting the nation's industrial needs and stockpiling rubber, tin, quinoline, manganese and other materials regarding which we were caught short at Pearl Harbor.

Yet the tragic fact is that Korea found our stockpiles dangerously low and with no production blueprint at all for the future. Even to this day, the munitions board hasn't come up with a single plan or estimate to guide wartime production.

This nearly resulted in disaster a week before the Inchon landing, when the air force almost ran out of aviation gas. The manufacturers were supposed to keep a 30-day supply on hand in the Far East, but had no production goal to guide them. As a result, the supply ran dry on September 6, and our planes were nearly grounded on the eve of the Inchon landing. A gasoline shipment arrived in the nick of time, but the supply dropped dangerously low again while our troops were storming Seoul. Meanwhile, the producers hastily adjusted their production gears and stepped up the flow of aviation gas.

The munitions board also permitted the nation's wool supply to dwindle so low the army is short of wool to clothe its troops for the severe Korean winter. As a result, the government is now frantically bidding for wool on the Australian market. The irony is that the agriculture department had plenty of wool last year but couldn't get the munitions board to take it over for stockpiling.

Pasadena: Will you please tell me whether the Gila monster was named for the river or the other way around? Also, what is the origin of Gila?—A. E. B.

A. The monster was named for the river, and the river was named for the Apache groups living along the Gila in Arizona. The word Gila (also: Xila), pronounced HEE-luh, is of Indian origin, and is said to mean "spider," according to the Director of Library and Archives, Phoenix.

Lake Charles: The prefix "in-" means "not." How is it then that "flammable" and "inflammable" means the same?—O. E.

A. "In-" also means "in," as in "inflammable, include, increase." In "inflammable" the "in-" is merely an intensive. It does not mean "not." Hence, "flammable" and "inflammable" both mean, "combustible; capable of being set on fire."

Albany: Why do we speak of one who refuses to believe as a "doubting Thomas"?—W. K. S.

A. It is an allusion to Thomas, one of the twelve apostles, who would not believe in Christ's resurrection until proof was presented (John xx: 24-29).

St. Paul: I submit this as the shortest poem ever written:

Than an oyster nothing's moister.—M. L.

A. Shorter still is the salutation of Adam to Eve:

Madam, I'm Adam.

Equally short is the poem titled "Germs," written by Strickland Gilliland:

Adam Had 'em.

WHILE THERE IS no plan now to draft privately-owned war dogs for service, man's best friend is a big help today to the Armed Forces wherever they may be. For example, upper left, scout dogs leading patrol through jungle trail. This is a vital job in Korea. Upper right, sentry dog learning the best way to attack an enemy. Dog is trained to attack from the rear. Best grabbing place is between elbow and shoulder. Lower left, these Alaskan huskies are being trained to be lowered over a cliff. They look a trifle resentful. Lower right, "parapups" in action. Dropping pack dogs by parachute in inaccessible bases is a revolutionary technique developed by the Air Force.

'Canine Corps' Still Very Active In Aiding U. S. Troops Overseas

By MILLER JAMES

Privately-owned "war dogs" which saw service during World War II have no obligation to return to active duty now, the Army is telling its many interested inquirers.

Some 19,000 dogs were loaned to the Army by owners during the last war and more than half of these passed the rigid physical and mental tests for active duty. Mostly they were used to guard supply depots and alert the presence of enemy patrols. Such dogs were taught to know Americans and to be hostile to the enemy. Some of them achieved a remarkable combat record and others became rather fierce and had to be "de-trained" before they were tame enough to return to civilian life.

The canines actually trained and assigned to duty served, numerically speaking, in the following categories: Sentry, 9,128; scout, 595; sledge and park, 268; messenger, 151; and mine detection, 140.

None of these veterans is to be recalled to active duty, the Army says. But the K-9 Corps still is very much alive, with 500 members serving at overseas stations in Korea, Japan and Germany, mostly as sentries and scouts. The "WAGS," as they were affectionately known, earned scores of official citations for outstanding combat achievements during the last war.

Used in Korea

So far in the Korean fighting scout dogs have been used regularly in the remote mountain and jungle areas to alert the presence of the enemy. For some time kennels have been maintained at Camp Rees, Pusan, Korea, to train dogs for regular patrol work and for guard duty with military police at the big supply depots.

Sentry dogs are being widely used in the American zone in Germany. At a school at Darmstadt they are taught to guard the major supply depots. The course lasts 8 weeks. Upon arrival at the school the untamed dogs are assigned immediately to a handler who is trained with them. The "graduated" sentry team has one man and three dogs.

The dogs used are mainly Schaefer hounds, Doberman Pinschers and great Schnauzers, all purchased from German civilians. Requirements are good disposition, minimum weight of 55 pounds, height of 22 inches at the shoulder and preferably male. Training is supervised by one officer and six enlisted men. Facilities include a kitchen where 4,200 calorie dog food is prepared, and a well equipped hospital.

Elsewhere at overseas posts, dogs are being used for sentry duty in Japan and Okinawa, for sled transportation in Alaska, and for rescue work by the Atlantic Wing of the Air Transport Service.

Today the Quartermaster Corps no longer trains dogs. This function has been taken over by the Army Field Forces at Fort Riley, Kansas. The QM, however, continues to buy dogs, food and maintenance equipment.

Only one infantry scout dog platoon is being trained at Fort Riley. This is in sharp contrast to World War II when five war dog reception centers were maintained by the QM in Virginia, Nebraska, Mississippi, Montana and California.

At first the QM trained dogs for all branches of the service, but soon the Coast Guard and Marine Corps took over this function for their own canines. Many breeds were trained but within a year the list of acceptables was narrowed down to German shepherd, Belgian sheepdog, Doberman Pinscher, the farm type collie and the giant Schnauzer.

No "Dog Tags"

By 1943, 2,000 sentry dogs were on regular duty at war plants, military installations and with Coast Guard shore patrols. An experimental unit of six scout and two messenger dogs was sent to the Pacific area for trials with combat units. Working with both the Army and the Marine Corps, engaging in both land campaigns and invasion operations, the fine work of the first dog platoon paved the way for hundreds to follow.

Unlike a human soldier, a war dog doesn't wear "dog tags." Instead, at the reception center his assigned identification number is tattooed on the left ear, on the flank or on the belly. To be accepted for duty the animal has to be fairly large, from one to five years old, have a fearless disposition and be non-gun-shy.

Most war dogs are trained in 12 weeks but the sentry dog usually completes his course in eight weeks. Training is conducted by the handler who stays with the dog in the field, under supervision of experts.

A proved fact is that a dog can be trained for scout, messenger or sentry work but cannot satisfactorily combine two or more duties of this type. Usually the sentry dog trains on a short leash and is taught to give warning by growling, alerting or barking. He is especially valuable for working in the dark, when attack from cover or the rear is most likely.

If given the command to attack, the sentry dog stalks without a sound, keeping to cover while closing in. When near enough to attack he leaps, grabs the intruder by the wrist, hanging on rather than biting, until the stranger's gun or club falls on the ground; then holds him helpless until the armed guard arrives.

Scout and patrol dogs also work on a leash, day and night, in all kinds of weather and terrain. Primarily this training emphasizes working in silence to aid the detecting of snipers, ambushers and other enemy forces. Messenger dogs are trained to work with two handlers, learning how to make a specific trip on a mission. Taught to travel silently and by a circuitous route if necessary, the messenger canine soon learns how to take advantage of natural cover, and to bypass any group except the one which includes his handler.

Hundreds of dogs trained by the QM in World War II established such outstanding records overseas that they were given citation certificates. Silver, a scout donated by Anthony Schadd of Kenosha, Wis., was cited for action in Italy. He exposed the presence of a large enemy force preparing for a surprise bayonet attack which would have cost many casualties. Silver was later killed when an enemy grenade demolished his foxhole.

Killed by Shrapnel

Queenie, a year old mongrel, also killed in the Italian front, was acclaimed the only whee-carrying dog serving with the Fifth Army. The personal pet of Corporal Larry Jernecke of Scranton, N. D., she served with the Third Infantry Division Artillery Battalion from the start of the Italian campaign until her death under fire.

When the going was rough and communications needed improving, Queenie, with the free end of reel of telephone wire attached to her collar, would stalk through the underbrush that soldiers found difficult to negotiate. One day near Venafro this dainty dog who refused Army rations and wanted only a single Vienna sausage as her daily meal, was hit by a piece of enemy shrapnel as she moved up a hill. Queenie was buried where she fell.

In a two month campaign on Luzon, at least 100 Japs were killed as a direct result of war dogs pointing out enemy positions. One platoon serving in the area started out with 12 handlers and 12 scout dogs. Their record was almost unbelievable. During the entire campaign only one handler was killed and a single scout dog suffered nothing worse than combat fatigue.

If and when U. S. defense authorities decide to recruit dogs again on a big scale, there's a rumor they may choose to train a lot of M-dogs. These, in World War II were dogs especially taught to detect enemy mines and booby traps. They were highly successful in locating mine fields and then leading soldiers on a safe path around or through them.

The M-dog worked on a 6-foot leash. When he discovered the presence of a mine or booby trap he signalled his find to a handler when at a distance of one to four yards from the concealed device. Each animal, however, invariably alerted at approximately the same distance each time, enabling the handler to quickly find and mark the exact danger area.

Different breeds can be used as M-dogs, but animals best suited are of medium size, weighing from 45 to 65 pounds, and are smart, hardworking, quiet and not easily distracted.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE HARDY FOLK—When Arvid Mustonen of Rock recently talked to the Delta County Historical Society of his trip to Finland last summer, he touched a responsive note in his audience in Carnegie Public Library.

For Delta county has a large and community-conscious group of Finnish folk and their descendants residing in the area of Rock, one of the county's most progressive districts.

Many of the cultural traits and customs of old country Finland will be found in the Rock area, where the sauna or steam bath is still a recognized institution and the people have intense interest in books and reading.

The Finnish love of song and dance is perpetuated in the choral groups and the dances, sometimes in costumes brought from Finland, for the entertainment of the people of the community. On the progressive side, Rock high school is impressive with its new addition; many of its finest business places are cooperatively owned and managed; and there is a growing prosperity both in the town and on the farm.

HERITAGE LIVES ON—So in this new land the heritage of the Finnish people still lives, an additional gift from a country that has contributed greatly to the civilized world.

Perhaps many of the people who have read, are reading, or will read that scholarly yet dramatic novel "The Egyptian" do not know that its author, Mika Waltari, is Finnish.

And it may surprise them to know that in Finland, with a population of 4,000,000, the book publishers annually bring out about 3,000 volumes—and 500,000 more are brought in from other countries!

THE BORROWER—From earliest days, Finnish literature has been rich in poetry and myths.

The "Kalevala," Finland's great folk epic, has been translated into many languages. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow used the meter of "Kalevala" for his equally epic and distinctively American "Song of Hiawatha." It has been charged that Longfellow not only borrowed the meter but many of the episodes and incidents from the Finnish. These charges came from disgruntled British authors who seldom find good in anything American and were successfully refuted by the late Hon. Chase S. Osborn and other scholars.

Finnish music is equally distinctive and one of its greatest composers, Jean Sibelius, has expressed the poetic feeling and national spirit of the Finns.

OLYMPIC GAMES—Finland is receiving recognition at present in the world of sport as she prepares for the 1952 Olympic games to be held at Helsinki.

Famous as a country of athletes, Finland's coastline and many lakes encourages the development of strong swimmers; and some of the world's greatest distance runners have been Finns.

THE STEAM BATH—Perhaps in Michigan's Northern Peninsula the sauna or steam bath is better known as a Finnish custom than the great artists and athletes of Finland's fame.

Reason for this is understandable. No Finnish home would be without its sauna and the hospitable Finns invite guests to partake of the exhilarating benefits of the steam bath.

In this country the traditional steaming has changed from the original practice of pouring water over hot stones, and only the more hardy grandsons of Finland finish the bath by plunging through the door into a snow bank!

Energetic, clean, book-loving, imaginative and fond of song and laughter, the Finnish people have contributed greatly to the pleasure of life in America—melting pot of the world.

Both Parties Predict Gains In Nov. 7 Vote

Republicans Need 49 House Seats

(By The Associated Press)

Political weathermen holding their fingers in the wind reported they found it blowing in opposite directions today and gave out predictions in accord with their observations.

With the elections less than two weeks away, there was a swelling of the flood of customary conflicting forecasts from Republicans and Democrats of what will happen.

Prospects "Excellent"

Senator Brewster of Maine, who heads the GOP senatorial campaign committee, told newsmen the Republicans have "excellent prospects" of picking up the seven net seats they need to win control of the Senate. Chairman William Boyle, jr., of the Democratic national committee said the Democrats will make Senate gains. So did Vice President Barkley.

In the House, rival claims from congressional campaign committees shaped up like this:

Republicans—The GOP is bound to take at least 30 House seats from Democrats, and stands a good chance to pick up 55 to 60 seats and take control of that legislative body.

Democrats—It's more likely to be the other way, with President Truman's party upsetting the usual off-year election trends to take away some of the seats that Republicans now hold.

The House line-up now is 259 Democrats, 169 Republicans, 1 American-labor member, and 6 vacancies due to death.

The Republicans have a net gain of 49 seats to win control.

Overconfidence Feared

The GOP claim came in a statement issued last night by Rep. Leonard W. Hall of New York, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee. Acknowledging that the election figures to be the closest in 10 years, Hall said the Republicans expect to gain at least 30 House seats.

Hall's opposite number, Rep. Kirwan of Ohio, told reporters prospects are that the Democrats will pick up some seats from the Republicans instead of losing any.

Victor Hunt "Cap" Harding, executive director of Kirwan's committee, told newsmen his only fear is that his party's picture looks so good that many Democrats will become complacent and overconfident. Harding would not make a flat prediction, however, of what will happen Nov. 7.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, called for "an overwhelming vote for the friends of labor." In a Chicago speech, Green said the chief issue in the election is "Liberty versus Taftism"—a reference to Senator Taft (R-Ohio). Taft co-sponsored the Taft-Hartley labor act.

Mrs. Clyde Beatty Dies On Circus Train

KOSCIUSKO, Miss. (AP)—Mrs. Clyde Beatty, wife of the noted wild animal trainer, died yesterday shortly before she was to appear in a circus performance with her husband.

She was found dead in bed on the Clyde Beatty circus train. Mrs. Beatty, also a wild animal trainer, was billed as the only woman who had ever trained a giant elephant and a Bengal tiger to perform side by side.

Besides her husband she is survived by an only child, Albena, a student at Hillsdale college, Hillsdale, Mich.

Detroit Truck Driver Abducted, Robbed Of $26,100 In Cigarettes

DETROIT (AP)—A truck driver told detectives that hijackers posing as police abducted him yesterday and escaped with cigarettes valued at $26,100.

Bernard Brown, 34, a driver for the Merchants Forwarding Co., said three men in a passenger car pulled alongside his truck and one of them flashed a badge.

Brown pulled to the curb, thinking they were policemen, and said the men forced him into the back seat of the car, bound his hands, taped his mouth and covered him with a blanket.

After driving for some distance, he said, the men put him into his truck and fled in their car with his cargo of cigarettes.

The driver's shouts attracted a passerby who freed him.

Stocks Take Fall In Selling Attack

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock prices broke sharply this morning when a sudden selling attack smashed into the market.

Within a few minutes losses piled up to an extent of more than $2 a share. Steels and autos, recently popular, were particularly weak. The high speed ticker tape, unable to keep up with transactions, was behind as much as 8 minutes at one time.

Wall Street quarters were unable to put their finger on any one factor to explain the abrupt drop in prices. Many regarded the slump as caused by a case of nerves among traders who feared new controls from Washington and unfavorable international developments.

Master Of National Grange Dies Suddenly

NEW YORK (AP)—Albert S. Goss, 68, master of the National Grange, collapsed and died last night shortly after addressing the 19th annual Herald Tribune forum.

Goss, in his address, had pledged the aid of farmers to the national mobilization program with a proviso that reasonable prices be assured them.

A native of Rochester, N. Y., the farm organization leader lived in Washington, D. C., where he had appeared at many hearings to present grange views on national farm policy.

YOUNG CAGER DIES

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—Robert Johnson, 19, a student at New York State institute of applied arts and sciences, died yesterday while practicing basketball.

Wire so fine that it is only a fifth of the diameter of a human hair is used in certain new types of radio tubes.

Chicago Prices

CHICAGO BUTTER	CHICAGO—(AP)—Butter steady; receipts 425,000; wholesale selling prices unchanged to five cents higher; U. S. extras 56 to 59; U. S. standards 38 to 40; current receipts 32 to 33 dimes 30; checks 29.
CHICAGO EGGS	CHICAGO—(AP)—Eggs, top firm, balance steady; receipts 7,000; wholesale selling prices unchanged to five cents higher; U. S. extras 56 to 59; U. S. standards 38 to 40; current receipts 32 to 33 dimes 30; checks 29.
CHICAGO GRAIN	CHICAGO—(AP)—All commodities except soybeans noted their way cautiously higher on the Board of Trade today.
	Soybeans ran into profit taking. That was not surprising in view of gains of more than 25 cents a bushel in the past couple of weeks. Even so, beans did not slide down far and trading became less active on the sell-off.
	Wheat near the end of the first hour was 5 1/2 to 7 1/2 higher, December $2.24, corn unchanged to 1 1/4 higher, December $1.49 1/8; oats were 1 1/8 lower to 1 1/4 higher, December $3.18, and soybeans were 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 lower, November $2.51, and lard was unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, November $13.25.

Michigan Living Costs At Peak

House Furnishings And Clothing Up

LANSING (AP)—The cost of living in Michigan rose 1.3 per cent to a record high in September, state Labor Commissioner John Reid reported today.

The September index was 159.3 per cent above Pearl Harbor days, but was 1.4 per cent below the national average for this fall.

The previous high was 159.2 in September of 1948, Reid said. Today's level is 2.9 per cent above a year ago and 28.4 per cent above June, 1946, when price controls ended.

The food index, Reid reported, fell off 0.1 per cent from June but house furnishings rose 8.1 per cent, clothing 3.1 per cent, fuel and electricity 2.3 per cent and services and miscellaneous commodities 1.3 per cent.

Reid said the reduction in the food index resulted from a 1.2 per cent drop in Detroit prices. In all other cities the food index was up 2.3 per cent for the quarter.

Reid estimated the purchasing power of the 1941 dollar in September at 62.7 cents, compared to 64.6 cents a year ago.

The index for Michigan industrial cities rose as follows in September:

Battle Creek, 1.4 to 159.5; Detroit, 0.7 to 160; Flint, 2.6 to 153.3; Grand Rapids, 2.9 to 156.4; Kalamazoo, 2.3 to 157.6; Lansing, 2.2 to 157.9; Marquette, 2.2 to 158.3; Muskegon, 2.3 to 156.5; Pontiac, 2.4 to 160.7; Saginaw-Bay City, 2.7 to 156.7.

Broda Shuts Out Wings; Near Mark

(By The Associated Press)

If Goalie Turk Broda of Toronto keeps up his present pace, he'll set a new record for shut-outs in the National hockey league.

The rugged Maple Leaf net-minder scored his third shutout in five games in Toronto last night as his mates beat Detroit's defending champions, 1-0.

The league record is 22 made by George Hainsworth, the old Montreal Canadiens star, in 1928-29. He also set the lowest goals against mark—43—that same season.

Broda shut out Boston 2-0 and the New York Rangers 5-0 in earlier games.

The Maple Leafs' victory sent them into the league lead with a one-point edge over idle Montreal. Cal Gardner scored the winning goal in the third period before 13,310.

A crowd of 13,114 saw the New York Rangers and Boston Bruins wrangle to a 1-1 tie in a rough and tumble game at New York.

Nine penalties were handed, three of them majors.

Gardner's winning Toronto goal came midway through the third period. He stole the puck from defense-man Bob Goldham, shifted the Wings' defenders out of position and found a chink in the armor of goalie Terry Sawchuk.

The Red Wings' defense-man Clare Martin suffered a fracture of the cheek bone in the second period when he body checked Sid Smith who was on a headlong dash down the ice. Martin will be out of action for probably four weeks.

Injured End Sues Lions For $10,000

DETROIT (AP)—Al Russas is attempting to collect $10,000 from the owners of the Detroit Lions pro football club.

In a damage suit filed in federal court yesterday, the former Tennessee end declared the Detroit football club violated National football league by-laws by asking waivers on him before he had recovered from injuries.

Russas said he suffered a fractured cheekbone "and other serious and permanent injuries" in an exhibition game against the Philadelphia Eagles at Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 2.

The 25-year-old grid player said the club paid his hospital expenses, then informed him waivers had been asked on him. He said this deprived him of his livelihood as he was to receive $5,000 for the season.

There was no immediate comment from club officials.

Notre Dame Prexy Sees New Army Series

DES MOINES, Ia. (AP)—It might be, says Notre Dame's President, that "the kids" are responsible for the Irish' less-than-normal grid showing this season.

The reference was to youngsters brought up on the "PT" information now wise to all of it. Notre Dame's head man, the Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, said: "Kids all over the country are becoming pretty familiar with the 'T' and I think most of the 'T's are a bit weaker than before."

"It's the kids who devise the defenses, I think, on the sandlots and in their backyards."

Father Cavanaugh predicted, incidentally, that Michigan State probably would beat Notre Dame Saturday "by two or three touchdowns."

Father Cavanaugh said Notre Dame wants to play Army and Michigan again and he "definitely" thinks the Army series will be resumed.

South Korea Army Up To Manchuria

the zig-zagging Communist Manchurian frontier formed by the Yalu river.

Americans Mop Up

The South Korean spearhead was expected to reach the border tonight. Yongsang, the last town before the border, is 10 miles north of Kojang.

On the west coast an American infantry regiment plunged rapidly northward. It seemed unlikely the doughboys would stop at any line short of the boundary. A U. S. spokesman said their mission is "to clear Korea."

And the far east air forces' bomb line was extended to the Manchurian border. Previously it had been 12 miles short.

To back up other forces forging northward on the sea of Japan coast, U. S. and ROK marines and U. S. infantry made the new landing at the port of Wonsan.

A remark by a spokesman at General MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters raised a doubt as to whether an end of the four month United Nations campaign was in sight.

Not Finished Yet

Asked when American troops may be withdrawn from Korea, the spokesman replied they have a mission to perform and that it is far from completed. Other signs pointed to continued mopping up.

U. S. Marine division troops came ashore on the east coast at Wonsan in their second amphibious landing of the war. As in the landings at the west coast port of Inchon Sept. 15, the leathernecks preceded the U. S. Seventh Infantry division ashore. South Korean troops and other units made it a 50,000-man force at Wonsan.

The landings were delayed six days, after an 830-mile seaborne run around the peninsula's south coast, because of a huge minefield blocking Wonsan's shore. U. S. navy officials said Russians supplied the mines and supervised laying them.

Woman Jailed With Husband In Holdup Of Nunica, Mich., Store

DETROIT (AP)—Vengeance landed Mrs. Ann Larsen in jail today beside the husband she turned in as a suspect in a Nunica, Mich., robbery.

A quarrel, she said, led her to call police and tell them her husband, Russell, was involved in the $400 holdup of an elderly shoe store proprietor at Nunica Oct. 7.

John White, 75, the proprietor, identified Larsen as the man who held him up, and told police Mrs. Larsen waited outside in a getaway car.

The woman was promptly arrested as an accomplice in the holdup. The couple will be taken to Grand Haven to face prosecution.

Mayo Doctors Share In 1950 Nobel Award

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Two Mayo Clinic doctors and a Swiss professor will share the 1950 Nobel prize in medicine.

The award recognizes their work on two hormones—cortisone and acth—which have brought the promise of relief to millions from the great pain of rheumatoid arthritis. Their work has opened up a new field of medicine—one of the most important of the century.

The Caroline Institute, which awards the prize, announced the winners tonight—Dr. Philip S. Hench and Edward C. Kendall, both of the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., and Tadeusz Reichstein, professor of Chemistry at the University of Basel.

Their work also has promised aid to sufferers from rheumatic fever, gout, asthma, certain eye inflammations, psoriasis and leukemia.

By testing the hormones clinically, the three doctors found that both were highly potent against rheumatoid arthritis. This malady, one of the worst forms of arthritis, causes great pain and often leaves joints twisted and backs bent. The researchers brought astonishing results and caused a medical sensation.

The three doctors were credited with having made the greatest contributions to the discovery of cortisone. This is produced by the adrenal cortex, a caplike gland atop the kidneys which scientists believe may hold the key to many of life's processes.

The prize money totalling 164,303 crowns ($31,715) will be divided among the three scientists. It will be presented to them in Stockholm Dec. 10.

Kinross Girl, 15, Is Grange Queen

MUSKEGON (AP)—A 15-year-old Upper Peninsula brunette, Nancy Franks of Kinross, Chippewa county, today was the reigning princess of the Michigan State Grange.

Nancy was chosen from among 41 county Cinderellas—by lot, exactly the way the Cinderellas themselves were chosen.

The names of the 41 were placed in a brightly decorated basket at a banquet meeting last night of the 77th annual meeting of the grange.

The slip bearing Nancy's name was drawn from the basket by 7-year-old Mary Lou Wermuth of Holly whose mother, Mrs. Iva Wermuth is the grange lecturer and whose father, Bert, is editor of the Michigan Patron, the Grange publication.

Television dramas, put on film, require about 15 minutes of camera shooting time for each minute of finished film.

Quarrel In Kremlin Blamed For Russian Opposition To Lie

By STANLEY JOHNSON

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—United Nations headquarters today buzzed with reports that a quarrel in the Kremlin between Prime Minister Stalin and Trygve Lie led to Russia's vetoing of the bluff Norwegian as U. N. secretary-general. Lie spent a week in Moscow last May during a swing around the world's great capitals trying to sell a 10-point peace plan designed to solve east-west differences.

Phony 'Tip' To Officers Brings Arrest And Fine

Pleading guilty to a charge of giving fictitious information concerning a game law violation to conservation department district headquarters office in Escanaba, Jack Marble of 711 Michigan, Gladstone, today pleaded guilty in Justice O. C. Estenson's court and paid a fine of $50 and costs of $4.30.

The complaint was made by conservation officers following an investigation by them and state police of the Gladstone detachment.

John Chriske, district supervisor of the conservation department, said the district office had received a telephone call from Marble the evening of Oct. 19, informing the officers that head-lighters were to be out after deer in the Whitefish plains area north of Rapid River.

The officers patrolled the area and came upon an automobile that sped away. After a chase over back roads at speeds up to 70 and 75 miles an hour the car eluded the officers near Rapid River. Later investigation by state police resulted in the complaint against Marble.

Secret For 5 Months

His trip was widely denounced in the United States as toadying to the Russians.

Exactly what happened when Lie met Stalin in the fastness of the Kremlin has been a closely guarded secret for more than five months.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob A. Malik, however, let some of it out last night.

He told a closed meeting of the security council, gathered to try and agree on a new secretary general, that Lie had declined to adopt some amendments, suggested by Stalin and Deputy Premier V. M. Molotov, to the peace plan.

Malik said the Soviet leader wanted the changes to weaken what he called the "pro-American bias" of the plan. He did not explain how the plan showed such a western orientation nor what the amendments were. Key point of the proposal was for periodic high-level discussions to settle outstanding differences.

Two Candidates Rejected

U. S. Representative Warren R. Austin said the U. S. insisted on another term for Lie in order to vindicate his support of the Korean war. Austin implied he would use the American veto—for the first time—if any other candidate successfully opposed the incumbent.

The council finally decided to tell the veto-free general assembly it could not agree, but Malik served notice he would insist on another council try.

Austin indicated he thought the Russians would have trouble finding still another candidate after two Soviet-endorsed men—Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines and Charles A. Malik of Lebanon—were defeated yesterday. Two others—Sir Benegal N. Rau of India and Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico—withdraw at the last moment.

Indian Summer Heat Wave On

Minneapolis Reports High Of 87

WASHINGTON (AP)—A mid-autumn heat wave, described by the weather bureau as one of the "most intense in history for late October," is bringing record high temperatures in scores of cities from coast to coast.

And more of the same is in prospect, the bureau's latest extended 30-day forecast says.

Since October 10 Indian summer has lain over the whole land with the exception of New England, Florida, Minnesota's Red River Valley and northwest Washington.

Lilburn H. Seaman, a climatology expert in the bureau's central office here, noted that it was 100 in Glendale, Calif., on Oct. 13, the highest temperature Glendale has ever had.

On the 18th, Minneapolis recorded 87, its highest October reading ever. That same week it was 100 in Phoenix, Ariz., 84 in Cleveland, Ohio, 84 in Milwaukee, Wis., 87 in Dubuque, Iowa.

Support Bond Issue To Care For Mental Cases

Increasing support in Delta county and throughout the state for Proposal No. 2, a proposed $65,000,000 state bond issue to improve facilities for the care and treatment of mental health cases, is evident as the need for adequate care of such cases is revealed.

The proposal will come before the voters in the Nov. 7 election.

Effect of present inadequate state facilities for the treatment of mental cases and others needing institutional care was emphasized today at the local level by Delta Probate Judge William Miller.

Older persons who have become senile may require care that can not be provided at home, but in institutional facilities are lacking and the only alternative is to have them committed to a state hospital as insane, Judge Miller reported.

Briefly, Proposal No. 2 is a referendum that would authorize the state to borrow $65 million to begin immediate planning and construction of hospitals for the mentally ill and epileptics, and training schools for mentally defective. There is also a provision for tuberculosis hospitals, a problem in some sections of the state.

Many Patients Wait

In this county there is a "long waiting list" of epileptics because of the lack of hospital facilities at the hospital for such cases at Caro, Mich. For example, one young woman has been waiting admittance for one year, another for two years—and a young man waited four years before being accepted, Judge Miller said.

Over-crowded conditions at the Newberry state hospital for the feeble-minded and insane pose equally distressing problems for the families and the home community of the patients.

Three Delta county persons, all feeble-minded cases, are waiting admittance to the hospital and in other cases their conditions became so serious they had to be certified as insane to be committed. For quite some time no women have been accepted at the state hospital because of overcrowding. Only the violently urgent cases can be accepted.

Not Effective Care

At the first report of improvement, insane cases are sent home to make room for new ones—and many times their conditions worsen and they must soon go back. This is neither an effective nor economical treatment program, Judge Miller pointed out.

Situation Serious

Approval of the bond issue has been declared a "must" because Michigan's mental health situation is in urgent need of correction. Financing of the bond issue will be accomplished by a long term repayment of the capital and interest, with some repayment in the future from those citizens of the future who will benefit from the long-range program.

The situation in Michigan is too serious to attempt bit by bit construction from taxes as they become available. Issuance of the bonds would make immediate construction possible. Inherent advantages of such a move are:

Savings from efficient handling of one large, quickly executed project would be possible.

Prompt relief of the serious overcrowding would be accomplished.

Prompt institutional care could

St. Patrick Corner-Stone
Dedication Ceremony Sunday

Solemn ceremonies at St. Patrick church, Sunday afternoon, October 29, at 4 p. m., will mark the blessing for new St. Patrick's school. His Excellency, Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, Ordinary of the Diocese, will preside. The bishop will bless and place the stone and also preach the sermon.

Parishioners and friends are reminded that if the weather is favorable the blessing of the stone will take place in the church and then a solemn procession will be formed and conducted to the school site where the placing will take place. On the way to and from the site the Rosary will be recited.

If the weather is unfavorable, the whole ceremony will take place in the church, the pastor, Fr.

M. B. Melican, states.

In the procession will be the members of the clergy, altar boys, children of the catechetical school and parishioners. An honorary escort of Fourth Degree Knights will accompany the Bishop.

The honorary stonebearers are M. N. Smith, A. J. Manley, W. P. Schultes, John Manning, Coleman Nee, Capt. B. J. Gallagher, John J. Bartella, Gerald Cleary, Ralph Finley, Charles Chaison, Con Driscoll, Michael Ettenhofer, Tim Curran, R. C. Pryal, James Hanrahan, Charles Lefebvre, James Powers, William Rapin, Frank Stoik, Dr. R. E. Hodson, Edward Harkins, sr., Dr. Clem Corcoran, Edward Corcoran, sr., Harry Bourke, John Fisher, sr., Frank Shepeck.

The active stonebearers are D. T. Vinette, John Trotter, Abe Herro, Claude Tobin, Dr. Thomas McInerney, Dr. William LeMire, Arthur Brian and Clifford O'Donnell.

At the site the senior children's choir will sing "For Christ the King," in honor of the feast of the day. Benediction will follow. Fr. Melican stated today that the stone is more of a dedication stone than a cornerstone as it will be later placed in the wall of the building facing South 13th street.

A parish dinner in the church hall will conclude the ceremony.

Church Events

St. Stephen's Auxiliary
The Women's Auxiliary of St. Stephen's Episcopal church will meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. Eric Froberg, 1021 First avenue south. All members of the group are asked to be present for the business session.

Calvary Ambassadors
Calvary Ambassadors of the Calvary Baptist church will meet at 8 tonight for their monthly fellowship social. Grace Reareck is program leader. Special vocal and instrumental numbers will be given by Pat Sheedlo, Donna Carlson and Carol Westberg. Burt Haring will be speaker. Host and hostesses are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Townsend and Miss Ruth Johnson. All members and friends are urged to attend.

Country Club
Harvest Ball
Saturday Evening

The Escanaba Golf and Country club will bring to a close its season of social activities with a colorful harvest ball Saturday evening, October 28.

The club house will be attractively decorated in an appropriate harvest-Halloween theme. Music will be furnished by Ivan Kobasie's orchestra. Formal dress, it was announced, is optional.

The committee for the evening has extended an invitation to club members and their guests to attend the cocktail hour from 8:30 to 9:30.

The ball is open to members and guests and a large turn-out is expected to bring the season to a successful close.

Fun Frolic Is Slated Tonight

The third annual Halloween Fun Frolic sponsored by Local 663 of the AFM will be held tonight in the Sherman hotel. A large attendance is indicated by advance sales.

Several Escanaba bands will play the dance program, from 9 to 2 p. m. Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes, but costumes are not necessary for attendance.

Proceeds from the fun frolic will be for the benefit of the musicians union. Members have been asked to turn in ticket stubs to committee members as soon as possible.

Social Situations

You blame a child for something you later discover he did not do.

WRONG: Feel that a grownup must never admit to a child that he has made a mistake.

RIGHT: Apologize. Say you made a mistake and that you are sorry.

Wide Variety

Have you ever been puzzled about what kind of apples to buy for pies, baking, or applesauce? Michigan growers supply us with over 20 varieties of apples, which are adapted for various uses.

Mary Bodwell, agricultural economics department food specialist at Michigan State College, says this is an ideal time to review some facts and helpful tips about apples. National Apple Week, Halloween and the fall harvest season are calling our attention to this popular and healthful fruit. There's a good crop coming to market at reasonable prices.

Here are Michigan's eight leading fall and winter varieties, with suggested uses:

General Use

The Jonathan, Baldwin, McIntosh or Northern Spy can be used quite generally in any way—saute, baking, pies, salad or eating out of hand. The Rhode Island Greening is mainly a cooking apple, good for pie, baking and sauce. Grimes Golden and Delicious apples are used mostly for eating out of hand and for salad. Steele's Red is not a good baking apple, but can be used for pies, sauce, salad, or eating fresh.

Although it's important to get the right apple for the use you intend to make of it, here's a tip that will help you get desired results in cooking. To have a firm apple after it's cooked or baked, Miss Bodwell suggests adding the sugar at the beginning of the cooking process. This helps to "firm" the fruit and make it hold its shape. If sugar is added after the apples have cooked soft the sauce will be granular in texture.

And here's something well worth remembering when buying apples—they are sold on a graded basis according to Michigan law. Checking the grade will help tell you whether you're getting your money's worth.

Buy By Bushel

The important grades are, in order, U. S. Fancy, U. S. No. 1, U. S. Commercial, and U. S. Utility. The grades are based on quality and color. Difference in apples given either of the first three grades is mainly in the amount of coloring. For example, the U. S. Fancy and U. S. No. 1 may be of the same quality but the fancy grade apples have more color.

Miss Bodwell advises buying apples by the peck or bushel for a more economical buy. Most of the fall and winter varieties will keep well in a cool, dry place such as the attic, pantry or a cool basement.

Mrs. Uebriek Is Rapid River's Oldest Resident

RAPID RIVER — Mrs. Wilna Uebriek, who recently observed her 82nd birthday anniversary, is Rapid River's oldest resident. She also is the oldest living member of the Congregational church, her membership in the parish dating from July 17, 1893.

Mrs. Uebriek was born in Segourey, Ia., and moved from there to Kansas with her parents in 1879. The trip of 500 miles made by covered wagon took five weeks. She came to Rapid River from Kansas June 19, 1893, joining her husband who had settled here the year before, clearing jack pines from the land to build the house in which she still lives.

On the occasion of her reception into the church the following month the late Rev. Empson of Gladstone conducted the services and gave her communion. The pastor made the trip to Rapid River by railroad handcar.

Three daughters and three sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Uebriek and there now are 19 grandchildren and 21 great grandchildren.

Mr. Uebriek who died 16 years ago will be remembered as stationary engineer in the saw mills and later as custodian of the school. He also was an expert at weaving rag carpets and devoted his time to this when he was not otherwise employed.

House Numbers Required For Mail Delivery

On a recent canvass of letter carrier routes in Gladstone it has been found that a large number of business places and residences lack house numbers, it is learned from Postmaster B. R. Micks.

In most instances it was found that in making repairs or in repainting the exterior of stores and residences, the numbers were removed and have not been replaced.

One of the Post Office Department requirements to receive mail by carrier is that house numbers must be visible. Visible numbers materially aid the foot, parcel post and special delivery carriers in serving patrons more expeditiously and likewise aid the entire community in the saving of carrier time.

It was also found that a large number of mail boxes were out of order. Postmaster Micks requests patrons who receive their mail by letter carrier to check their house numbers and see that mail boxes or door receptacles are in proper order.

If mail boxes are used a rack for papers and magazines must be provided.

Salvation Army Fund Drive Under Way Here

A whirlwind drive for funds for the Salvation Army is being conducted among Gladstone industries and businesses, it is announced by William L. Marble, Gladstone chairman, who is directing the local drive.

Solicitors have been named for various industries and for each block in the business district. There will be no house-to-house canvass but others desiring to contribute may turn in their donation at either local bank, Mr. Marble points out.

With the Red Cross roll call and the Boy Scout and Girl Scout drive scheduled to begin on Monday, the Salvation Army drive is being held this week and is scheduled to close Saturday night. Approximately $1,000 is the Gladstone quota.

The local chairman said that 49 local families have been aided in a spiritual and material way during the first nine months of 1950.

A portion of a form letter used in promoting the fund drive here follows:

"Dear Friend:

"Men and women thoughtlessly forgotten in the rush of modern life. No family. No home. Too old to work.

"To these people, The Salvation Army stretches out helping hands. Its motto, 'To all the living there is hope,' knows neither race, creed, nor color. Yet this is only one of the human services of this eighty-four-year-old organization.

"Its program reaches into the far corners of the United States—to veterans—to young people—to those behind prison walls—into tiny rural communities.

"The Salvation Army drive to raise funds for the year 1950 is now in progress."

Escanaban Admits Headlighting Deer

Oliver Beauchamp, 2400 Ludington street, Escanaba, a cabin operator, was arrested about a month ago on a deer headlighting charge and upon arraignment before Justice of Peace O. C. Estenson pleaded not guilty and trial in the case was set for October 4.

Continuances prevented hearing the case and then Tuesday, Beauchamp changed his plea to guilty and was fined $50 and costs of prosecution.

Joseph Koisch, also of Escanaba, a Harnischfeger employe, was arrested at the same time. He also entered a not guilty plea, but Justice Estenson said yesterday he had been advised that Koisch intended to change his plea.

The men were arrested in Naima township by Conservation Officer Earl Kaiser who was aroused early one Sunday morning shortly after he had retired, when someone fired at deer in a field near his house.

Denies Charge Of Reckless Driving

Robert Lauscher of Route 1, Cornell, was arraigned before Justice of Peace O. C. Estenson yesterday morning on a reckless driving charge which he denied and trial was set for Nov. 1. Bond in the case was set at $200 and Lauscher was freed.

The alleged offense was committed in Cornell township early Wednesday when Conservation Officer John Mahar was attempting to stop another auto on the main road. Mahar alleges Lauscher drove his auto in such a way that Mahar was forced from the road and it allowed the other party to escape.

Laverne Paulus, an outstater, was arrested by Conservation Officer Hugh Fisher of Nahma for hunting without a license and upon arraignment before Justice Estenson pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $25 and costs of prosecution.

Prime Honored By Elks Lodge

Feted At Bowling
Dinner Last Night

Special tribute to Ray L. Prine, a member of the Manistique Elks lodge since 1924, featured the semi-annual bowling banquet last night at the Elks temple here.

A farewell cake and a gift of appreciation from members of the organization were presented to him by Dr. George A. Shaw, acting as toastmaster.

Responding to the toastmaster, Prine told of his early employment as a newspaperman in Battle Creek and how he was influenced in joining the Elks lodge there in 1917 by the annual dinner for newboys which the Battle Creek lodge sponsored.

The day after he joined, he said, he was transferred to Traverse City and here, as a young single man, he became associated with the Elks and spent much leisure time at the club. Here, he said, he met William Parr who was instrumental in getting him to come to Manistique in 1920. In 1921 he transferred his Elks membership to the Manistique lodge and since then he participated in its various activities, primarily bowling.

Prine is former chairman of the Elks house committee here, and also served for several years as chairman and secretary of the bowling league.

Other speakers on the program were Carl Carlson, exalted ruler, who discussed membership classes scheduled for January and March; O. F. Smith, house committee chairman, who urged more member participation in club activities; and Earl LeBeasse, bowling secretary, who distributed checks to the eight winning teams during the final half of last season's bowling and also announced the special matches scheduled for the evening.

Winning teams during the last half were announced as follows: First, Eat Shop; second, Schuster's; third, Liberty Cafe; fourth, Van Eyck's Specialties; fifth, Ethelphones; sixth, Inland; seventh, Barney's Grocery; eighth, Lumberjacks.

Also introduced at the session was R. G. Hentschell, exalted ruler in charge of the banquet, and E. H. Jewell served as song leader.

Audio-Visual Presentation Is Scheduled

William Wright, of Marquette, traveling layman for the Episcopal church, will make an audio-visual presentation at a parish supper and meeting in St. Alban's Episcopal church here on Thursday evening, Nov. 2, it was announced today by Rev. Albert Linnell Schrock, vicar.

The supper will be held in the church hall at 6 o'clock. It will also be a general church get-together and a welcome for the new year, and all members of the congregation and their families are expected to attend.

St. Paul's church at Nahma will have a similar gathering on Monday, October 30, in the community building. Bishop Herman R. Page, of Marquette, will address the meeting, and the story of the church will be told by L. Eric Jones, of Menominee.

More than 2,000 laymen of the Episcopal church travel to parishes and missions in 80 churches throughout the country to tell the story of the church, Rev. Schrock said. These men are trained and have an inspiring message concerning the Episcopal church, its work at home and overseas, and its achievements and its hopes, the vicar reported.

Essay Winners Are Announced

Awards Made At Assembly Oct. 25

Prizes to winners of the essay contest conducted here during the Employ the Physically Handicapped Week observance, Oct. 1 to 7, were awarded at a special assembly in Manistique high school Wednesday afternoon.

First prize was won by Joyce Martinson. Other winners were Jean Carlson, second; Marlene Marks, third; Lael Richards, fourth; and Laura Pizzala, fifth.

Awards were presented by William Blowers, a handicapped veteran of World War II, who was a member of the local committee.

Prizes for the first three winners, which were pen and pencil sets, were provided by the State Savings bank, the First National bank, and members of the Inland union. Fourth and fifth place winners were given theatre tickets by J. L. LeDuc, of the Cedar-Oak theatres.

The local contest was conducted by the Escanaba office of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation commission with the cooperation of a community committee appointed by Dr. James H. Fyvie, mayor of Manistique. Both Dr. Fyvie and Clifford Johnson, local veterans counselor, who also was a member of the Manistique committee, were present at the assembly. C. Elmer Olson, of the unemployment commission office in Escanaba, also attended.

High school students participated in the contest, and teachers selected the 10 best essays which later were judged by a special committee named by Mayor Fyvie.

Schon Ordered To Confine His Dogs

Francis E. Schon, proprietor of Hotel Ossie, yesterday afternoon in local municipal court was ordered to kill, dispose of or confine two Doberman Pinscher dogs he owns.

Complaint against Schon was brought by Edward V. Jackson on the allegation that last Friday the two animals attacked his small daughter, Martha Jackson, and two boys, Conrad and Denton Nelson, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Nelson. The complaint charged that one of the dogs bit Denton Nelson on the hand.

Witnesses were Mrs. Malcolm Nelson; Mrs. Thomas Ross, who testified that she saw the attack; Miss Grace Wood, who stated that one of the animals attacked her last fall; and John Wood, who said that he also had been attacked by the dogs.

Attorney William Hood represented the complaining witness.

"Cook Out" Held By Members Of Scout Troop 461

Boy Scouts of Rotary-sponsored Scout Troop 461 staged a "cook out" last Monday night in place of their regular troop meeting. They built fires near the shores of Lake Michigan about six miles east of Manistique and each Scout cooked his own meal.

Fire-building proved to be a real test to the boys as the wood was dampened by Monday's rain.

Twenty boys under Assistant Scoutmaster Iggy Babladelis and Scoutmaster Ben Karwowski participated in the outing. Six new Scouts were informally initiated into the troop.

Troop 461 meets regularly in the study hall of the Junior high school at 7:00 p. m. each Monday evening where the boys work on their Scouting skills and tests. The activity period of the troop is held in the old gym from the hours of 8:00 to 9:00 following the period of instruction.

Members in the troop for the present Scout year are:

Mrs. William Dines, of Big Springs, Mich., discussed the work being done by the Veterans' Bureau of Dayton, Ohio, and the American Legion Auxiliary at the annual membership dinner of the local American Legion Auxiliary Monday evening at the Legion hall.

Mrs. Dines also spoke of her affiliation with the Veterans' Bureau in Dayton where she was employed in a civil service capacity. She has also been a member of the American Legion Auxiliary in Dayton for the past 20 years.

During the short business session it was unanimously voted to send a high school boy to the Older Boys' conference at Escanaba November 4.

Delegates named to attend the American Legion Auxiliary meeting at Ishpeming on November 4 were Mrs. Chester Rivers, and Mrs. John M. Hewitt. Mrs. Fred Williams was elected alternate.

Following the business meeting cards were played, with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Alec Cooper, high in buncie, and Mrs. George Stephens, high in canasta. A table set with blue and gold lattice work centered with candles and cat-tails was the decoration for the lunch, which was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Alec Cooper, Mrs. Ray Martin, Mrs. Bertha Harding, and Mrs. John Grimsley.

The next meeting will be held at the Legion clubrooms Monday evening, November 13. Hostesses will be Harriet Nygard, Mrs. E. J. Doyle and Mrs. George Huber.

Writers Will Visit In City

Plans Outlined To Entertain Group

Manistique will be one of the host cities when the Outdoor Writers association of America and the Michigan Outdoor writers association hold a joint convention in Escanaba next summer, it was reported yesterday by William H. Frederick, executive secretary of the Top O' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce.

Frederick attended a committee meeting in Escanaba earlier this week at which preliminary plans for the entertainment of the visiting writers were discussed.

The convention will open on June 30, 1950, with the first three days being devoted to business meetings, Frederick reported. Following this there will be four days during which the writers will visit various communities and scenic areas of the Upper Peninsula.

"A local committee will be formed to plan fishing trips and sight-seeing tours for these writers," Frederick said. "This is a marvelous opportunity for the Top O' Lake Michigan area to sell its many attractions and get thousands of dollars worth of publicity all over the United States."

"These men are all national figures representing the largest newspapers in the country, as well as national sporting magazines," he stated.

Last year the writers held their convention at Moosehead Lake, Maine. Other places where they have met in recent years include North Bay, Ont., Vancouver, B. C., and Florida.

Manistique Girl Hurt Friday In Crash At Skandia

Injured in an automobile accident last Friday night near Skandia, Miss Patricia Frankovich, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Frankovich, 103 Elm street, is a patient in St. Mary's hospital in Marquette.

Miss Frankovich, who is a sophomore student at Northern Michigan College of Education, suffered a compressed fracture of her sixth vertebra in the accident and will be hospitalized at least two weeks.

The accident occurred when Mark Boyak, of Munising, driver of the car in which Miss Frankovich was returning home for the weekend, was forced off the highway by another car. His machine hit a culvert and turned over. Boyak and another passenger were uninjured.

Christmas Light Fixtures Arrive Here Wednesday

Thirty ornamental Christmas lights, purchased by the retail division of the Top O' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce, arrived here yesterday and were stored at the city fire hall, it is reported by William H. Frederick, chamber secretary.

Members of the fire department will examine and assemble the fixtures. Later they will be installed by city employees, with the Manistique Light and Power company stringing the necessary additional wires. Evergreen decorations below and adjacent to the lights also will be put up by the city.

Funds to purchase the lights were contributed by Manistique business firms. E. E. Eckland, manager of the J. C. Penney store, headed the special retail subcommittee which directed the solicitation of funds and the selection and ordering of the fixtures.

'Beat Escanaba,' Theme Of Gladstone Gridders

GLADSTONE — "Beat Escanaba" is the battle cry of the Gladstone Braves as the annual game nears between the two old gridiron foes Saturday at Marble Athletic field.

The Braves have won but one game out of seven this season but in every instance opponents have known they were in a ball game and a victory over Escanaba would practically make the season's outcome a success. Many local fans judge the season on the result of the game with their arch foe.

Practice sessions were hampered some by the absence of Halfback Dallas Knecht who is having scholastic difficulties and had to attend study class and Quarterback Jim Kee who was reported to be suffering from a sore throat. However, both are expected to be in shape for the big game Saturday.

"We know that Escanaba will be after this one to atone for the Marinette game," said Coach Don Pfotenhauser. "We too are after a victory Saturday for it will ease the sting of what has happened to us thus far this season," he said.

Eleven members of the squad will be playing their final game. They are: Robert Cole, Dallas Knecht, Jim LaLonde, William Rasmussen, Richard Siedbeck, Capt. Bill Sundling, Jack Sutter, Roy Eldridge, William Young, Joe Sutter and Neil Sinclair.

A big pep session to heighten interest in the game will be held at Gladstone high school Friday morning.

Reserved seats available at Gust Aap's in Escanaba and at the Dehlin drug store and the high school in Gladstone.

Oklahoma Road Is Long One

NORMAN, Okla. — (AP) — Oklahoma has won 24 straight football games, but the Big Seven conference and Sugar Bowl champs have a long way to go before they can threaten the record for consecutive triumphs.

Most gridiron historians agree that the all-time high was set by the University of Washington, which won 39 games in a row for Coach Gil Dobie in 1907-14. Including four ties, the undefeated string went to 63 games.

The Sooners can tie the so-called modern record of 26 straight victories if they beat Iowa State Saturday at Ames. That one was set by Cornell, also under Gil Dobie, in 1921-24.

There are those who overlook the Washington string, because it included games with high school, battleship and club teams.

They hand the record of Pennsylvania, which won 38 straight under Coach George Woodruff in 1896-98. Glenn (Pop) Warner's Pittsburgh teams of 1914-19 rang up 33 straight victories.

Michigan won 25 in a row in 1946-49 and Notre Dame of 1946-48 was victorious in 21 straight.

In the 19th century, Yale twice won 27 games in a row.

Michigan chalked up 55 victories and one tie in 1901-05 and California had 50 triumphs and four ties in 1920-25.

Oklahoma started its all-winning string—now the longest in college football—with the second game of the 1948 season after losing the opener to Santa Clara.

Mississippi State Top Defense Team

NEW YORK — (AP) — Mississippi State is major college football's total defense leader, according to figures released today by the National Collegiate Athletic bureau.

Ohio State is on top in rushing defense, Oklahoma in forward pass defense.

Mississippi's average is 140.3 yards allowed per game.

Ohio State's powerful line remained superior in rushing defense, the Buckeyes having held rival runners to 33.8 yards per game in four contests. In 131 attempts, OSU opponents have netted only 135 yards, equivalent to 1 yard, 1 inch per push.

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

There was human interest galore in that 6-0 Iron River victory over Iron Mountain Friday night that gave Harry Monson the first undefeated team in Iron River history. . . Mickey McMahon, his star back, played only a few minutes because of an injured knee. . . Martin Kopenski, regular end and brother of Fullback Frank Kopenski of Marquette university, was undergoing an operation for removal of a kidney in a Duluth hospital. . . he was kicked in the Houghton-Iron River game Oct. 13, necessitating the operation. . . on top of that Halfback Don Dato played the best game of his career, just two days after the death of his mother, who had asked him to finish the season "no matter what happened."

Incidentally, the Iron River Reporter said: "Many fans considered Iron Mountain Quarterback Bob Gingrass the outstanding back on the field. . . he certainly was that in the Escanaba game. . . in fact, he is the finest high school back we've seen this year."

Most U. P. sportswriters are so disgusted at Newberry's yapping for the Barber trophy since the start of the season that they're willing to hand it to the Indians on a platter—permanently. . . writes Buck Erickson of the Iron Mountain News: "If the trophy were retired as a U. P. award and redesignated as a Great Lakes conference award, everybody would understand. Now it spells nothing but trouble and hard feelings. . . the late Floyd A. Barber is entitled to rest in peace." . . Jim Ripley of the Menominee Herald Leader quotes Bob Murphy of his paper as saying: "That Newberry outfit sure does a lot of promoting. . . if they want the Barber trophy that bad, let's give it to them. . . after all we went through the best teams in the peninsula undefeated and we've had a good season. . . let's forget about the trophy and let them have it."

Incidentally, Coach Morley Fraser of Newberry is still determined to have that Barber trophy, come hell or high water. . . not satisfied with plugging for his team on the basis of this year's record against Michigan teams, he now is dragging in his out-of-state game and his last year's games. . . after his team defeated a traditionally weak Canadian Soo team, Fraser was quoted in the Soo News as saying: "The win would compare with Menominee's rout of the Soo Friday night. . . it is believed that Newberry's 15 game winning streak should be considered in the running for the Barber trophy."

Fraser is quoted as saying that "No team has come within three touchdowns of Newberry this year, which cannot be said of Menominee."

At least Menominee was willing to play Newberry, which is more than can be said about Newberry.

And far on into the night! Nothing beats fun like fun!

Rickey To Cut Dodger Strings; Fate In Doubt

BROOKLYN — (AP) — Branch Rickey, father of the farm system and other baseball innovations, was scheduled to make a clean break with the Brooklyn Dodgers late today.

The Brooklyn Baseball club announced a press conference at which the bushy-browed executive was expected to announce his resignation as president and general manager.

He already has agreed to dispose of his one-fourth share of Dodger stock for $1,025,000. This is being snatched up by Walter O'Malley and Mrs. John L. Smith, each of whom already holds 25 per cent of the club.

O'Malley is slated to become president. Fresco Thompson, director of the Dodgers' farm system, is figured to have an inside track for the general manager-ship.

Fate Is Mystery
Meanwhile, Rickey's own future in baseball remained a mystery and became a bit more clouded with the disclosure of the terms under which he sold out.

It was learned Rickey had agreed to accept payment of the $1,025,000 for his stock in installments covering a ten and a half year period.

Major league rules forbid anyone who holds stock in one club to have a financial interest in another.

Thus if the unpaid part of Rickey's old holdings in the Dodgers could be interpreted as a financial interest he wouldn't be permitted to line up with another major league club.

Reports have had him ready to

Rock to Meet Marquette 11 On Friday

ROCK — The Little Giants will wind up their 1950 football season here Friday afternoon at 2:30 against John D. Pierce of Marquette.

Nothing is known of the strength of the Marquette crew, which seldom plays teams in this vicinity.

However, Coach Vic Manke-wicz's boys are "game tested" and expect to give a good account of themselves in their final game.

The Little Giants have victories over Powers-Spalding, St. Paul of Negaunee and Gladstone Bees with two defeats by Bark River-Harris and one by Florence, Wis.

So a victory Friday would give the locals a winning season. The locals are expected to rely on the running of Onni Kulju and Paul Roine, the passing of Dennis Harju and the pass receiving of Capt. Bill Westlund and Edwin Johnson.

Idle Packers Enjoying Rest

GREEN BAY—With four games in 19 days against the Chicago Bears and New York Yanks out of the way, the Green Bay Packers today launched rigid preparations for the last half of their 1950 National Football league schedule.

The Packers will be idle next Sunday because of an open date on the schedule, but they'll be busy the next six. They'll resume firing against the Colts in Baltimore Nov. 5 and then take on the 70-point Los Angeles Rams in Milwaukee Nov. 12. After a revenge battle in Detroit Nov. 19, the Packers will close out 1950 action at City stadium here against San Francisco's Forty Niners Nov. 26.

The regulation card for the Packers will close with two games on the coast—Dec. 3 at Los Angeles and Dec. 10 at San Francisco.

The 17-day absence from competition, while not exactly welcomed by Coach Gene Ronzani, is giving the athletes an excellent opportunity to recover from all injuries. Four of the boys, including Joe Spencer, Bob Forte, Dick Wildung and Abner Wimberly, went into the Yank game with injuries suffered in the second Bear game at Chicago.

The Packers, who now have a 2-4 record, hope to win at least half or possibly four or five of their remaining six games. They already have matched the Packers' 1949 record of two victories. Another victory would break the '49 mark and tie the 1948 record of three wins.

Packer officials are going ahead with plans for a "homecoming" at the San Francisco game here. All of the old Packers will be welcomed back and a special program is being arranged.

MUST'N'T DO THAT!

ROME—(AP) — Argentine soccer star Dionisio Arce has been suspended for five playing days by the national soccer directorate. Arce bounced the ball off the referee's face during an argument in Sunday's game.

Howie Perron Paces Tech Soo Branch

SAULT STE. MARIE — The heavy-duty backfield running of the Hornets' 1950 football team is carried out by "Howie" Perron, 175 pound freshman at the Sault Branch of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

Graduating from the Escanaba High school in 1949, Perron studied for a year at Northern Michigan at Marquette before enrolling this fall in Sault Ste. Marie's college, with the business administration field in mind.

From his fullback spot in the Hornets' backfield, Perron crashed through to climax a spectacular running drive in this season's game against the Port Huron Skippers.

Besides his running ability, helped by his skill in speedskating, Perron has been booting extra points for the team.

For his outstanding play in high school ball, he was used at fullback in the All-Star Upper Peninsula game this year.

He keeps his head down while charging, intent only on the job of "bulling" ahead through the defense.

College Football "Too Expensive"

MERIDIAN, Mass. — (AP) — Too much money is being spent on college football in the opinion of Southeastern conference commissioner Bernie Moore.

Addressing the Meridian quarterback club last night, commissioner Moore declared:

"The golden egg of football is

St. Joseph and Stephenson, which meet at 8:30 Saturday night at Memorial field in the final football game of the season, have met five mutual opponents and the results are interesting.

Both teams beat Gladstone by a one touchdown margin. Stephenson beat Bark River by six touchdowns, St. Joe beat them by four.

Both lost to Crystal Falls and Munising. While Stephenson was trounced by Falls, 28-6, St. Joe lost by only one point. On the other hand, Munising had a tough time beating the Menominee county boys, 19-12, but had easier sledding over St. Joe, winning, 30-14.

The results were different only on the games involving Lourdes of Marinette. While Stephenson took the measure of the Badgers, 14-6, St. Joe had to be content with holding Lourdes to a 20-14 victory.

In other games, Stephenson easily trounced Manistique and Peshtigo while St. Joe lost to Norway and Florence.

Coach Tom St. Germain's boys feel they have a good chance of winding up their season with a victory. To do so, though they will have to devise a defense to cope with the sensational running of Ken Hofer, cousin of Menominee's Dick Hofer, and the passing of Quarterback Pat Moran, who has pitched touchdown passes in almost every game this year. It was this passing combination, Moran to Hofer, that gave the Steves their thrilling victory over Gladstone last week in the waning minutes of play.

going to be broken quickly if alumni and friends of the schools don't leave the boys alone. College football is getting far too expensive."

NOTICE TO PATRONS OF LAKEVIEW CEMETERY
Hereafter persons making burials in lots purchased on and after this date will be required to use outer concrete boxes. This is to avoid sinking of graves.
This ruling does not apply to persons owning lots purchased previously who already have used wood boxes. In this case matching boxes may be used. The rule does not apply to County and Old Age Welfare cases.
Dated at Escanaba, Michigan, October 11, 1950.
